

LITTLE GIRL TELLS HOW EX-MAYOR SAVED HER LIFE.

Pretty Ethel Hawley Is Profoundly Grateful to Robert A. Van Wyck.

Pretty Ethel Hawley, the fourteen-year-old girl, of No. 48 West Twenty-second street, who was rescued from death under the heels of a horse in Broadway by ex-Mayor Van Wyck, is profoundly grateful to her rescuer.

"I wish you would say for me," said the little girl to-day, "how much I appreciate the courage of Mr. Van Wyck, who saved me from being trampled to death or perhaps crippled for life."

"When the big horse reared up over me as I lay in the street, I was sure his hoofs would hit me in the head, but almost before I could think about it Mr. Van Wyck had caught the bridle of the horse with one hand and dragged me out of harm's way with the other."

"Wasn't it kind and brave of him to pull me, a little girl, out from under the horse?"

"Of course, my bicycle was broken all to pieces, and I can't ride any more until I get it fixed, but I should not worry about that. Should I?"

"I am going to send my picture and a little note to Mr. Van Wyck and ask him to send me his picture."

Little Miss Hawley was riding her bicycle in Broadway, between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth streets, when a horse, driven by Jacob Frank, of No. 19 Seikel street, Brooklyn, became unmanageable and ran her down.

She fell from her wheel directly under the hoofs of the frightened animal, when former Mayor Van Wyck, who was on the sidewalk, sprang into the street and saved the girl. She was badly frightened and was taken to a drug store.

As soon as Mr. Van Wyck ascertained that she was not injured he walked rapidly away, being roundly cheered by the spectators.

This adds one more to the list of rescues made by the ex-Mayor. Four years ago he plunged into the water and rescued two young women who were drowning.

Little Ethel Hawley is a small, delicate child, who looks not more than twelve years old. She has been educated in a Northern convent, and this is her first experience of the dangers of city streets.

SERVANT TOOK $3,000 IN GEMS

Sophie Kuflik, Who Was Wanted for Theft Here, Arrested in New Haven.

JEWELS ARE RECOVERED.

Letter Which She Wrote to Her Brother Proved a Clue That Led to Her Speedy Capture.

Sophie Kuflik, a pretty Austrian, wanted here for the theft of $3,000 worth of diamonds and other jewelry from Mrs. Morris Rosenwasser, of No. 1121 Madison avenue, yesterday was brought to this city to-day.

The missing jewels were found on Miss Kuflik's person when she was arrested.

Detective Sergeant Elmer Dixon and Morris Flosheim, of the Headquarters staff, made the arrest. With them was Jacob Freeman, of No. 150 Nassau street, an attorney and brother-in-law of Mrs. Rosenwasser. The latter is said to be a government contractor, manufacturing jewelry for the army. Samuel Kuflik, of No. 32 Pitt street (rear), a brother of the prisoner, was also in the party. The story of the theft as told by Dixon was:

"The girl we have arrested was employed as a domestic by Mrs. Rosenwasser. Last Saturday evening after Mrs. Rosenwasser had retired the young woman reported that some vegetables for Sunday dinner had not been delivered and that she would go out to get them. On the way out we believe she gathered up a big diamond brooch, several diamond rings and others set with different jewels, also two watches, one a lady's and the other a man's, several chains and lockets."

Mr. Freeman obtained a letter addressed to Samuel Kuflik, and in it the girl told her brother to go to New Haven with her trunk on the steamer from New York. We went on at once and notified Chief Wirth, of New Haven. The girl walked almost into our arms in Grand avenue on her way to the steamboat dock. The brother's recognition is what called our attention to her."

"She was greatly surprised, but when taken to Headquarters readily produced the missing jewelry."

The young woman was arraigned before Magistrate C. W. in the Centre Street Court this morning and was held to the Grand Jury in default of $3,000 bail.

SEVEN-YEAR-OLD LAD IS A WONDERFUL PIGEON SHOT.

Little Jesse Poplar Astounds Havre de Grace Veterans by His Work at the Traps.

JESSE POPLAR, SEVEN-YEAR-OLD SHARPSHOOTER.

(Special to The Evening World.)

BALTIMORE, June 19.—A bright young star has suddenly made his appearance in the firmament of crack pigeon shots. Jesse E. Poplar, Jr., is just seven years old. He is the son of Jesse Poplar, of Havre de Grace, the paradise of duck shooters. Mr. Poplar is something of a duck shooter, but he is not in the same class with his seven-year-old nephew, who is now considered the best in Havre de Grace, where there are many men who make their living with a shotgun.

Until two weeks ago little Jesse had never shot a gun at the traps. His father was induced to bring the boy down to the tournament of the Baltimore Shooting Association, and Jesse's performance was an eye-opener to the veterans at the traps. On his first attempt he killed seventeen out of twenty birds. On the next day he killed twelve out of fourteen, and finally eighteen out of twenty. Jesse shoots from the 13-yard mark and uses a 28-inch gauge gun weighing 5-14 pounds.

The infant phenomenon is to shoot at twenty-five birds each day at the mid-summer tournament of the Baltimore Shooting Association at Bay Ridge in July.

SMALL-POX WAS NO JOKE.

Marks on Hotel Proprietor's Face Proved to Be the Real Thing.

(Special to The Evening World.)

MOIST VERNON, June 19.—A joke that proved a reality and caused Henry Wertemler's removal to the pest-house, suffering from small-pox, was uttered in the Happy Days Hotel, Mount Vernon, yesterday afternoon. Wertemler is the proprietor of the Happy Days.

Yesterday afternoon H. H. Williams, superintendent of the gas department of the Westchester Lighting Company, entered Wertemler's hotel and bought a drink. While Williams was drinking he noticed Wertemler's face was badly broken out with a rash and jokingly remarked, "I think you have small-pox, Wertemler."

Wertemler laughed heartily and then told Williams that he had taken some blood medicine which was responsible for the eruptions. Wertemler was removed to the pest-house suffering from an advanced case of small-pox.

SNAKES FOUGHT OVER EEL.

Millionaire De Neuville Killed Reptile with His Cane.

(Special to The Evening World.)

BABYLON, N. Y., June 19.—Jacob De Neuville, of New York, a millionaire summer resident of this section, to-day killed two monster black snakes. Each measured five feet in length.

The snakes were killed in Effingham Park, one of the well known suburbs of this place, and when first seen by Mr. De Neuville were engaged in a fierce combat over an eel thirteen inches long, which one of the reptiles had caught in the lake. The larger snake had swallowed about half of the eel and the smaller one was doing his best to get it away from him. The snakes were apparently in a rage and hissed so viciously at each other as to attract the attention of Mr. De Neuville.

Mr. De Neuville killed the snakes with his heavy walking-stick.

ELEVATOR VICTIMS RESTING EASILY.

Those Who Were Hurt in Crash at Macy's Store Are Improving Rapidly at the Hospitals.

All the persons injured by the falling of the big passenger elevator in Macy & Co.'s store yesterday were reported improving to-day.

Ten of the twelve women injured in the crash were taken to St. Vincent's Hospital, where they were reported as doing well, while the two women and two men who were taken to the New York Hospital were also resting quietly.

Oscar Straus, asked to-day if the firm had made any investigation into the cause of the accident, said:

"The proper persons are looking into the matter."

President Baldwin, of the Otis Elevator Company, said: "As soon as the Macy people have completed their investigation we shall make ours."

"Our firm put that elevator in the store eleven years ago. Since that time we have never been asked to inspect the elevator or the machinery. That work has been done by somebody else. We expect to have a report within a short time, and then I shall issue a statement."

OUR UNSANITARY MARKETS.

President Cantor Calls for Estimates on Repairs.

President Cantor, of the Borough of Manhattan, has received a copy of a report made by Sanitary Inspector Daniel T. Kenny regarding the condition of the markets of the city.

Of Clinton Market, Inspector Kenny reports that the entire building is in such an unsanitary condition as to be unfit for market purposes. Dr. Dillingham recommends that it be torn down.

The report of Inspector Kenny regarding the other markets is very unfavorable.

It was found that during the Van Wyck administration two Dock Masters, receiving $1,500 salary each, had collected $10 and $12 respectively. Five of them, receiving in all $1,500 in salaries, had collected about $1,000. The Mayor said:

"I think this was a characteristic performance—paying $1,500 in salaries to collect $1 in one instance and $12 in

LIEUT. WILLIAMS AT SAN FRANCISCO

Ex-Inspector Met Son Who Was Severely Wounded in Samar Campaign—Endured Fearful Privation.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19.—A. S. Williams, Lieutenant in the United States Marine Corps, who is home on sick leave, has arrived on the Hong Kong steamer.

He was a member of Major Waller's expedition and suffered from privations with his most valued treatment, but died from lack of food and from wounds. Lieut. Williams personally suffered severe blows in a pitched battle with the natives.

The officer was greeted here by his father, Ex-Inspector Williams, of the New York Police Department. The latter came from New York to take charge of his invalid boy.

A Grateful Mother Writes About Consumption.

"For many months I was worried and heartbroken over an incurable cough which had fastened itself upon my son."

"The best professors and doctors gave him their most valued treatment, but failed to do him any good. His cough was dry and was a constant source of annoyance."

"I was discouraged and heartbroken, as medicines failed to improve his case, and as a last resort I applied to the Koch Lung Cure at 48 West 22d street, New York, and had him breathe those healing oils into his lungs."

"He improved from the start, until at last he was cured, and I now feel that but for these physicians he would have died. He is all I have got, and if this terrible disease had taken him away I would not care to live myself."

"As I am thankful for the great benefits of this wonderful Consumption and Asthma cure, I offer my testimonial, as I believe it a duty which I owe to others suffering from lung diseases."

"My son's name is Carl Hanson, and we live at No. 14 East 84th street, New York. Any one in our neighborhood can prove the truth of this statement."

"MRS. HANSON."
